Three Peculiarities

The superior qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla are secured by three peculiarities viz:

First.—The combination of remedial agents used.

Second.—The proportion in which they are mixed.

Third.—The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

These are peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are unlike any other. The result of these peculiarities is a medicine of unusual strength, which effects cures hitherto unknown, trial, or even a glance at the article inspires confidence because it bears unquestionable in itself a thorough understanding on the part of those who originated it.

A peculiarity of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is obvious to all is one hundred doses one dollar. This is an argument so powerful in favor of its strength and economy, that if you are sick try this excellent medicine, it will be a groan to you. If you are well, and only need to purify your blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do it perfectly and thoroughly. Its power to do this is unequaled by any other medicine. Its sales are unprecedented, and are constantly adding to its immense list of genuine testimonials. Its merits need not be explained to you, for you have probably taken it, or at least know of its wonderful cures. Do not be induced to buy any other preparation, because you are told it is "just as good" as Hood's Sarsaparilla, or "will answer the same purpose." There is nothing else like it. It is unique in its power to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and thus cure all diseases caused by impure blood. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, and only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not be persuaded to buy anything else. Do not be experimented with. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier ever known, and the only one you can depend upon. Do not fail to give it a fair trial, if you have any disease originating in impure blood.

Unknown To Others

My little girl was afflicted with scrofula. So virulent was the disease, that her neck had been lanced twice. At the time she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, there was a very large bunch on her face. This we expected to open with the lancet, but to our surprise the bunch began to shrink, and now it has entirely disappeared. Baby is in good health, sores all gone, her appetite is good, and she sleeps as well as any child.

William H Conant Lynn Centre, N H

Attest, I live neighbor to Mr and Mrs Conant and have always known them. The above statement is true. Theodore Balch.

Scrofula.

Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure when in the power of medicine. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, General Debility, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaint, Catarrh, Female Weakness, Cancerous Humors, Humors of the Face, Ringworm, Pimples, Syphilitic Affections, Ulcers, Sores, Tumors, Scald Head, and all diseases arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood.

"Appetite poor, bowels out of order, scrofulous sores on my face and back. I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and with three bottles my sores healed, and I am at business again." J. Amberg, Chicago, Ill.

Purify Your Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier. Every bottle must show great benefit, or we will refund the money. It is the object of agents to compel you to buy what they say is "just as good" as Hood's Sarsaparilla, because they make more profit on it. If you want to purify your blood, don't be induced to buy anything else. Hood's Sarsaparilla will do it. If you are suffering from Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, or any blood disease, and have doubts as to what it will do, write us for more information, and we will cheerfully give you the opinion of physicians, and the evidence of what it has done for others. Do not delay. Do not suffer

Republican District Convention.

The Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District of Maine, composed of the 1 counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis, Aroostook and Washington, are requested to send delegates to a Convention to be held at the City Hall, in Bangor, on Tuesday, August 19th, 1884, at 10 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative from this District to the Forty-ninth Congress of the United States, and of nominating a candidate for President and Electors at large, and of selecting two delegates and two alternates to the Republican National Convention to be held at Chicago, Illinois, Tuesday June 3d, 1884, and of transacting such other business as may properly come before said Convention.

Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate and for every seventy five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1883 and one delegate for each fraction of forty votes over fifty.

District Committee

Bangor, Me., March 17th, 1884

The Aldermen are now in session at the Council Rooms for the purpose of revising the voting lists. See that every name is on.

A correspondent of the Memphis Avalanche says that Gen Hancock's nomination "means victory." Certainly it does—victory for the Republicans.

The Republicans are very enthusiastic and mean to give Judge Humphrey a handsome majority next Saturday. If every man does his whole duty this result is assured.

Mr Blaine thinks the outlook for a Republican victory this fall very encouraging and expresses the opinion that the candidate of the party whoever he may be will be elected.

The lack of harmony in the Democratic party on the tariff question is becoming more apparent every day. The speech of Speaker Carlisle, at Brooklyn, is bitterly assailed by his own party organs, one going so far as to say if he had made it five months ago he could never have been elected to his present position.

In the death of Hon Joseph Dane, of Kennebunk, the Democratic party of this State has sustained a severe loss. Mr Dane has always been prominently identified with the history of that party and his name has recently been mentioned as a candidate for Governor. He sprung from a distinguished family and has held numerous offices of trust.

We publish this morning an editorial from the New York World, good Democratic authority, in which the editor repudiates the free trade theories of the Carlisle-Morrison regime. We suggest that the editor of the Commercial give it a careful reading so that he may more fully appreciate what a great bill he made, when he swallowed the Morrison bill whole, free lumber and all.

The United States Supreme Court has rendered a decision of much interest to Northern capitalists who had money in the hands of Southern agents at the outbreak of the rebellion. Suit was brought by Northern parties to recover of a Southern agent what had their funds. His defence was that he was compelled, to pay the same to the Confederate Government under the confiscation act. The Supreme Court holds that this conferency had no legal status, that its acts are no defence that the Southern trustee was a part of the Confederacy and cannot plead such defence, and that the Northern creditor can recover.

The members of the Greenback State Committee are said to be of the opinion that there will be no fusion this year, and that the Greenbackers will nominate a candidate of their own for Governor. The man most prominently mentioned at present is Dr Ellis Enton, of Camden. There is division in the committee on the tariff question. The majority is for protection, but Mr. Otis of the Rockland Opinion is a free-trader, and he wants all mention of the tariff omitted from the platform. Perhaps a better plan would be to copy some of the see-saw resolutions of the Democracy on the subject. Their old platforms will furnish a large assortment of fair sounding declarations which anybody can subscribe to. Portland Press.

The editor of the Commercial says in reference to the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad matter "No one, so far as we are aware, proposes or favors any sweeping changes in the directorate or management of the road, nor are we aware that any change whatever is contemplated." Perhaps not, but that is of no particular significance as Mayor Cummings whatever his intentions might be is hardly liable to make a confident of the editor of the Commercial. Whether any changes are made or not, the citizens of Bangor are perfectly well aware that all kinds of rumors have been in circulation in connection with the management of the road, and this being the case the representatives of the people as a precautionary measure, introduced an order to prevent, if any such thing was attempted, an interference with the present Board of Directors. This order was defeated by Mayor Cummings and if no change in the Board of Directors is contemplated, just why he took this step is a matter which the editor of the Commercial seems unable to explain.

If the experiments now making at Fort Hamilton with the dynamite gun show that this engine of destruction will accomplish all that its inventor claims for it, we are on the eve of a great change in the methods of naval warfare, and indeed of all kinds of warfare. The dynamite is placed in a huge projectile which is thrown from a gun by compressed air. There is no explosion (so the inventor says), until the huge dart strikes the object at which it is aimed, and then, the destruction is great enough to sink the heaviest ironclad. The point, of course, is to keep the dynamite, which is more sensitive to a slight shock than is pleasant sometimes, from going off as it leaves the gun or in its course through the air. To see if this possibility can be avoided is the object of part of the experiments now being conducted by the War Department. They are reported to be reasonably successful. It would hardly be wise, however, at this stage of the proceedings for Congress to abandon all thoughts of improving the Navy lest this last terrible weapon should render the present style of war-ship useless.

Disorganized Democrats.

(New York World, Dem.)

As a private individual Mr. Carlisle has a perfect right to dine with a body of reputable citizens, whatever their political views might be. But when he sought and obtained the great position which entitles him to be regarded as the lieutenant of the party, he forfeited the right to ignore its policy as to its welfare and unity.

Yet his speech against Democratic principles and Democratic policy is now announced as a "campaign document." It is to be sent out by the Democratic National Committee as an exposition of the party's views on the tariff question. Mr. Carlisle is to be the party's spokesman. He is to be its representative before the country. He is to be its leader in the House. He is to be its candidate for Speaker. He is to be its candidate for President. And he is to be its candidate for Governor of Kentucky.

The Democratic party is now, therefore, in a ridiculous position. It is to be led by Mr. Carlisle in the House of Representatives on a measure of theories of all parties, who believes in a free interchange of commodities between all the world, and can see no reason why an agricultural country should try to make itself a manufacturing country by protecting its home industries. At the present moment, when the Democratic party is known to be divided on this question, when the Democrats of Ohio and New Jersey have just won splendid victories on platforms directly opposed to Free Trade, when New York State and New York City stand prepared to repudiate any party infatuated and published enough to write Free Trade on its banner, a Democratic holding from his party such a trust as that confided to Mr. Carlisle did not act either wisely or justly in lending his countenance to Free Trade doctrine.

The toast to which Mr Carlisle responded at this Free-trade love-feast was "The Federal Union."

What a travesty was this for the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the high exposition now held by a Democrat, to display.

Did he use his well-known eloquence to convince those of his hearers who were Democrats that a free people with the right of free elections is of more importance than Free Trade? Did he seek to show that the protection of real Freedom and the Republic our fathers made need the united strength of the whole Democratic party?

Alas, no! Called upon to respond to "the Federal Union," Mr Carlisle dragged in by the ears a dissertation on Free Trade, the only subject on which the Democratic party is at discord!

We have a right to object to this, to censure it as unwise and unjust, because while Mr Carlisle has the privilege of his opinions as an individual he has no right, holding a high trust from his party which places him before the world as its chosen representative, to do an act which falsifies the position and endangers the success of his party. He was not the Free Trade banner, not as Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, but as the Speaker of the Democratic House of Representatives.

Would it not have been unjust and unwise had he attended a Protectionist dinner and made a speech in favor of Protection?

We tell Mr Carlisle frankly that he has made a disunion speech, a speech that is calculated to distract and divide the party which has honored him.

* * * * *

It was a strange speech of a man who—must we say unfortunately?—holds the great Tycoonship from the entire Democratic party.

Now for the Facts.

(Philadelphia North American)

Mr Morrison has succeeded in reporting his universal panacea Tariff bill to the House, accompanied by a minority report. It may probably not come up for discussion in Committee of the Whole for several days. Meantime some of the facts bearing upon tariff regulations and results may better be presented. The bill as reported is said to affect the iron and steel industry not a little. The object of the horizontal reduction proposed by Mr. Morrison is said to be two-fold—to reduce revenue and to lift from the shoulders of the people of the United States a great burden of taxation under which, it is said, they are now groaning in order that monopolists may maintain high prices.

We began to manufacture steel rails in 1868, in which year we produced seven thousand tons and purchased abroad two hundred and fifty thousand tons at a cost of $158.50 per ton. Eight years later, when our plants had been increased, we produced 142,000 tons and imported 257,000 tons at a cost of 869 25 per ton. Four years later we produced 968,000 tons, and imported 200 000 tons at a cost of 862.50 per ton. In 1881 we produced 1,937,000 tons and imported 380,000 tons at a cost of 861 12 per ton. In 1883 our product was 1,460,000 tons and our imports 224,000 tons at a cost of 848 50 per ton. Last year we produced 1,295,000 tons and imported 39,000 tons the price being 837.50 per ton. For 1882-83 our product was about one hundred thousand tons in excess of that of Great Britain.

Thus, before this country competed with England in producing steel rails, the price was about one hundred and fifty dollars a ton at our mills. After sixteen years of competition under protection we made more rails than England did and sold them at 837 50 per ton. Protection gave us competitive labor, and competition has lowered the price of rails from an average of $108 per ton for foreign rails to less than forty dollars for American products.

Capital Clippings.

CRIPPLING THE POSTAL SERVICE

The action of the Democratic majority in reducing the appropriations for the railway mail service will, unless the Senate shall change it, have a very serious effect in all portions of the country. The necessary result will be the discharge of a considerable number of railway postal clerks. Democrats at every stage of the Postoffice Appropriation bill have manifested their hostility to the postal service. They attempted to cripple the letter carrier service but were defeated owing to the fact that the Democrats from the cities declined to sustain their leaders. The city Democrats, however, did not vote with the Republicans on the propositions to maintain the appropriations for the railway mail service at the estimates of the Postmaster General. The consequence is that if that service is to be maintained at its present standard of efficiency the Senate will have to do it in first instance, and then compel the House to concur.

WILL TILDEN ACCEPT A NOMINATION?

Ex-Speaker Randall returned to Washington Saturday after a visit of several days to New York, where he has been in consultation with Samuel J. Tilden and other prominent Eastern politicians. Mr. Randall confirms the accuracy of the Philadelphia Press interview with Mr. Tilden, in which he explicitly avowed his determination not to be the Democratic candidate. It is understood that the primary object of the ex-Speaker's visit to New York was to impress upon Mr. Tilden the necessity of allowing his name to be used in the convention, and that he flatly refused.

AN ATTEMPT TO AUTHORIZE POLITICAL FRAUDS.

The solid South, aided by all the Northern Democrats, attempted to-day further to cripple the authority and power of the United States to punish violations of the election laws. The ballot box stuffers and their friends and advocates were on the alert and used every effort to amend the bill which gives the Government the right of peremptory challenge in certain cases. Blaine, of Florida, who knows all about

SCROFULA

Usually develops in early life, and is a peculiar morbid condition of the system, usually affecting the glands, often resulting in swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, thickening of the lips, enlarged neck, sore eyes. A scrofulous condition is often hereditary, but bad diet, too free use of fat meats, bad air, want of sunshine and nourishing food will induce it. Some people are troubled with scrofulous swelling of the glands, and with ulcers and kernels, which may cause very little pain; others may have inward scrofula, scrofula of the lungs, scrofula of the spleen, scrofula of the kidneys and scrofula of the bones. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will drive away any case of scrofula, and not to happen in another place, for their action on the blood and bowels will carry the disease entirely from the body.

ACCIDENTS.

The Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York

asks you if it is prudent to make provision for loss of property by fire, and to neglect taking a policy in its reliable, prompt, personal injury?

Presidents GARFIELD and CARFIELD died from the results of accidental injuries. Senator WARNER of Missouri, Senator HILL of Georgia, Governor WILLIAMS of Wisconsin, Postmaster-General JAMES, and hundreds of leading business men, have all met with fatal accidents, and people forget this in a thousand other similarly perfect.

The Accident Office is fashionable refuge of so-called people, but what sense is manifested in risking the ocean, as one accident is enough into the life? Why not look after your own interests, because danger and death are so near, and slip on a banana skin or such a trivial thing as a piece of orange peel which may strike you with death.

Persons in Positions of Trust, holding to provide security will readily perceive it is a necessity of this Company's system, as it enables them to act, and annual payments as low as could be, as well as other companies. Call on the undersigned for TICKETS POLICIES or BONDS.

SWEET INFLUENCE

The whole family feels its sweet influence. The daughter will not have to be kept from school and sew for a living. The son can get an education or at least up in business. And the dear group of little ones will not know by experience perhaps half a bad mother's by this philosopher's stone that can raise a capitalist in an instant. The wife relocates in the confirmation that God has opened to her and the children an exhaustless source whereby her natural protector and support is snatched away and the husband feels that a load is off his mind. He is now sure of his own, life has done his duty, and has a right to trust God and die at peace. He can sell his policy in old age, if he needs the money, and the amount is divided into the policy and made a part of the estate.

A Sylvania, Ga., despatch to the Louisville Courier-Journal relates the following romance: "A courtship of forty years' standing has just resulted in marriage. In 1843 Miss Mary Paythress was a belle of the county. There was one among her admirers, John Grass, to whom she had rejected several eligible offers. The lover, however, was jealous of Miss Mary's popularity with beaux in the neighborhood. Grass wandered off, and for forty years was not heard of, when one day he returned brouzed and bearded, expecting to find his former sweetheart married. True to her heart she was still single. They became once more engaged, and once more entrapped, since which time they have been as strangers, though often meeting. Social vicissitudes of the time had circumstances kept them apart and seemed to have chilled whatever love had prompted existence. Recently the lady fell ill, and realized she was about to celebrate her sixty-sixth birthday. Mr. Grass began thinking over the years again, and made up his mind that the long deferred baptism should come off at last. He found the lady willing, and they have just sealed vows made forty years ago."

An Austin colored party named Jake was very late a few days ago, in getting down to the store. His employer, Col. Allsplice, rebuked Jake in somewhat severe language. "I want you to understand this trifling will never do. If you can't get down to your work in time, I'll hire somebody who can." "Boss, don't be hard on me, and the debbil's gone filled with fears. I'Why, what's the matter with you? Anybody sick?" "Nuffin' I don't know, which am a blessin' dis fust, my wife, or my old mudder." "I'm sorry to hear of such bad news. We don't need you about the store to-day." "Thank you, boss." "Thank you kindly," and off he went. Next morning Col. Allsplice asked Jake what he meant by saying that his wife and mother were dying, when he had been both on the street the day before. "Dyin'," exclaimed Jake, opening his mouth wide enough to admit of a coffee mill being thrown into it, and elevating his eyebrows in amazement. "I'se dying. You said they were dying, and half an hour after you left your wife made here to see if you had drawn your wages for the month, and my mudder said she'd spend the month and take in chunks of them, you wouldn't spec dem ole debbils 'd die. I declar I did say I didn't know which of 'em was gwinter die fust, and I don't know that yet, dey's both got sich good appetites—I knows one ob 'em gwine to die fust, boss—" Here Col. Allsplice interrupted the orator with an ax helve, and the business relations heretofore existing between them have been severed.—Texas Siftings.

Where the Fire is Out.

Magic No More a Mystery—Soon From Across the Wafid.

"Haroun el Alcyone," said Sir Philip Derval, "had mastered every secret in nature which the wise ones seek to fathom. He discovered that the true art of healing is to assist Nature to throw off the disease—to stimulate, as it were, the whole system to eject the enemy that has fastened on a part. His processes all included the recognition of the principle of life."

In this the Eastern sage merely anticipated the great truth of the latest physicians of to-day. What life itself is, nobody knows, then—nobody knows now; but we have learned something of the laws governing the manifestations of life. Procedures of the most organized the body are not irreparably destroyed, medical science can always restore them, and often save. No reputable physician now believes in the barbarous practice of bleeding, by which it was attempted to cure disease by reducing the patient's ability to resist it. Now-a-days we do not treat a cold in the first by help the patient—we strengthen it. In this intelligent and humane method is recommended that PARKER'S TONIC should be all other medicines. Why? Its ingredients acts in the stomach and powerfully upon the circulation and the organs of digestion, thus giving Nature the advantage she needs to throw off the cause of disease. The stomach, kidneys and liver are at once restored to health. No other preparation so collects the scattered forces and vitalizing results. It is flexible to use, and the best known remedy for Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, and Kindred diseases. All druggists.
